Galapagos Island... A real paradise! It is well known that Charles Darwin visited the archipelago in 1835 on board the Beagle boat. For five weeks, the boat anchored in the islands and of these five weeks, Darwin only took two on land but it was enough time for him to be inspired by the unique nature of the Galapagos and to formulate later, with further studies, his theory of the origin of ...

The Galápagos tortoise complex or Galápagos giant tortoise complex (Chelonoidis nigra and related species) are the largest living species of tortoise. Modern Galápagos tortoises can weigh up to 417 kg (919 lb). Today, giant tortoises exist on only two remote archipelagos: the Galápagos Islands 1000 km due west of mainland Ecuador; and Aldabra in the Indian Ocean, 700 km east of Tanzania.
